During the last 100 years, the concept of product quality management has dramatically changed from the "Inspection-Only" of the end product to the "Total Quality Management (TQM)". The work of quality gurus have contributed greatly in the development of the modern quality management movement which has changed the mindset of the organizations as shown below:

Old Paradigms

New Paradigms

Bottom – line emphasis	Quality First
Conformance to specifications	Continuous improvement above specifications
Focus on target driven production	Customer satisfaction
Inspection orientation	Prevention orientation
Individual responsibility	Team work

Quality is the outcome of the workers’ efforts. Construction works involve risky operations in dangerous areas, such as working at height, working on slippery surfaces and working under material handling equipment. Constantly changing sites, nature of work, construction methodology and technology and new dimension to the safety problems. Unsafe working leads to accidents. An accident is an unplanned, unwanted, undesirable, sudden mishap, which interrupts an activity or a function; and causes sufferings and /or damages. Accidents do not just happen, they are caused. A cause of accident is an uncontrolled hazard. Safety is a question of life and death for those working at construction sites.
